

Frances Ni Fhlannchadha - Bio

Frances is a registered general nurse for more than thirty-five years with qualifications in midwifery and coronary care. She has spent her career between the public and the private health sector and gained some valuable experience whilst working for a number of years in Australia.

Frances held many senior nursing posts where her responsibilities included (but not confined to) responsibilities for the delivery of patient care/safety, workforce planning, performance management, budget planning and working towards the attainment of Joint Commission Accreditation (JCI). She graduated from UCD in Quality & Risk Management and was appointed to the Director of Nursing role in Mount Carmel Private Hospital in 2011. She was a member of the senior management team which had responsibility for clinical governance and health and safety. She graduated from the IPA in Project Management in 2014 and joined the reform team in the HSE on the scoping project on the implementation plans for the amalgamation of the Hospital Groups and Community Healthcare Organisation Project.

Frances joined the staff of Tallaght University Hospital in February 2016 as the Patient Safety & Risk Management Lead. Her role involves leading out on serious incident reviews, recommending quality improvement initiatives and providing education and support to staff. She is a strong believer in team building, collaboration and developing a culture of openness and transparency in healthcare to improve outcomes.
